CHAPTER NUMBER:4

CHAPTER NAME :A Bicycle Built for Two

CHANGING YOUR TOMORROW

Or if he hung over the top,
He could go, but he never could stop;
For of course it is clear
He had no way to steer,
And under the wheel he would flop.

Summary : Afterwards, it attempts to hop and balances itself over the top of the bicycle. At that point it faces another issue I.e.it keeps on riding even though it cannot stop now. Another problem is how it would steer the bicycle. Chances are it might flop.

His neighbor, observing the fun,
Said, "I think that the thing can be done,
If you'll listen to me,
You'll quickly agree
That two heads are better than one.

Summary : Meanwhile, there is another eel who was the neighbour of the primary eel. It was observing this humorous affair and recommended the first eel with a splendid thought i.e. how about they both would ride the bicycle.

“And this is my project, old chap,
Around our two waists I will wrap
This beautiful belt
Of bottle-green felt
And fasten it firm with a strap.”

Summary : It proposed that both of them will fasten their waists with a bottle green belt and strap it firmly. Thereafter, they will hop on over the seat and squirm so that they both can peddle using their tails and ride the bicycle.

This done, with a dignified mien
The two squirmed up on the machine,
And rode gayly away,
Or at least, so they say,
Who witnessed the wonderful scene.

Summary : They jumped on the seat and each eel on one side pedalled using their tails and enjoyed the ride. They were all set to live their dream and ride the bicycle as they longed in the beginning of the poem.
