Textual records- Literary Evidence.

Religious Literature:

History is not a record of only the rulers. It is mostly an account of the people's life and living. The literature of every time is like a mirror of that time. Mental and social conditions of the people are known from literary sources.

The Religious Literature of India is too vast. It includes the Vedas, the Upanishads, the great epics like the Ramayana and Mahabharata, and the Puranas of the Hindus. These are like mines of information about religious beliefs, social systems, people's manners and customs, political institutions, and conditions of culture.

Kautilya's Arthashastra is a famous work. It not only speaks of the State and polity, but also of socio-economic system. Authors like Patanjali and Panini, though they wrote Sanskrit grammar, also described some political events. The dramas of Kalidasa, Vishakhadatta, and Bhasa give us useful information about the people and
