Gist of the story(Pg 25, 26)

This is the story of a boy named Raju, who had lost a chance to watch an important cricket match. One of his leg was broken and it was in plaster. He was sitting in an armchair and was very upset. His mother tries to make him feel relaxed through words and also advises him to not fidget in order to get well soon.

No words could make him feel relaxed because he had to miss the chance of watching a live test cricket match. The cricket wizard- Sachin Tendulkar was to play in that match. Though, his father tried to convince him that watching a live match in TV was much better than in a crowded stadium, but it was of no use to him.

Raju was still in his bad mood and then entered his brother Renju with chocolate cake and popcorn. He told you can have it while you watch the match in the TV. He also said that he will try to get the autograph of Sachin for him. This made Raju very happy and he asked his mother to switch on the TV. Renju and papa went to the stadium. Raju started watching TV but after sometime he became disturbed because of the itching sensation.

Finally, the match was over and India had won the match. He could see the reflection of that on the faces of his brother and father. Dad said , I have got a hat for you and Renju narrated everything that happened in the stadium. He also begged sorry for not being able to get the autograph of Sachin . It made Raju sad but Renju promised to fulfill the words in the next chance. The newspaper headlines revealed the next day that Sachin is injured and out of the game for next two weeks. Raju had to go to the hospital after two weeks for his check up and change of plaster. He was waiting in the waiting room and then.....

Raju was in the waiting room waiting for his turn, when the nurse called out “It is your turn Raju”. Raju went to the doctor’s chamber where his plaster was cut open and his leg was checked. The doctor was of the opinion that the leg of Raju was healing quickly. A new plaster was put on the leg. The nurse told Raju that after two weeks he will be able to play cricket again. A voice from behind asked “So, do you like cricket?” Raju had not noticed him. He tried to turn a little and said it is my life and I want to be a great cricketer like Sachin.

There was a good conversation between Raju and the man. Raju also said that Sachin was his hero and he admired him a lot. Finally Raju came to know that the man he was conversing with was none other than his hero Sachin Tendulkar. He was simply aback and shouted to call out to his mother. The nurse in the hospital also could not believe that Tendulkar, the cricket wizard had come to their hospital for his check-up. Raju got the autograph on his plaster and after getting his plaster removed , he hung it up in his room and looked at Sachin's autograph before leaving for the school.
