Interrogative Pronouns and Interrogative Adjectives

Whose pen will they bring to you?

Which book will they give you?

What location is chosen for the shoot ?

In the above sentences whose, which and what are question words. But they are modifying the nouns. Therefore, whose, which and what in the above sentences are Interrogative Adjectives.

Interrogative adjectives are question words that modify nouns in questions.

Interrogative Adjectives

Interrogative adjectives will help to find answers to the questions people ask.

Interrogative adjectives are often used along with nouns to ask questions such as where, who, how, why and which.

Such words are words that determine the sentence completely in terms of questioning.

EXAMPLES-

Whose pen will they bring to you?
