CHANGING YOUR TOMORROW

LEARNING OBJECTIVE :

The learners will use their understanding to answer the questions.

B. Let us read between the lines.

1. Whittington would stop his daydreaming and get back to work. He believed that some day things would be different. What do ‘things’ refer to in the sentence?

Ans- Whittington would stop his daydreaming and get back to work, he believed that some day things would be different. In this sentence things refers to the dreams and wishes of Whittington. His dream was to go for expedition to far away lands . He imagined himself as knight who freed the world from rats and receive rewards from kings.

2. Why did Mr Fitzwarren refuse to take a part of the treasure?

Mr Fitzwarren refused to take a part of the treasure because he believed that Whittington was the true owner of the treasure . He gave his only friend the cat to the captain and because of the cat the captain could help the king of Barbary. So he refused to take a part of the treasure.

3. Write two adjectives to describe Whittington. Explain your choice of adjectives. Whittington was a kind man. He could have kept all the treasure for himself but he shared it with the captain , with his mate and even the ill natured cook too. He was a daydreamer. Instead of playing and roaming he sits and daydreams about his desires.

C. Let us go beyond the text.

In the previous chapter, you had read another story about the menace of rats and how the Pied Piper solved the problem in a different way. Can you describe how the solution was different from the one in this chapter? Which solution do you like better? Why?

In the previous chapter the Pied Piper solved the problem of rats by playing a magical flute. He had some magical power. He was also aware of the reward and when the mayor broke his promise he taught them a lesson by taking away the children of the town. Where as in this chapter Whittington had only the cat as his friend but he gave it to the captain without expecting anything in return. The cat helped by killing all the rats, which is a natural way to get rid of the rats. So I like the second idea.
