

Answers

H
25/11

2. The name of the poet is "Rainer Maria Rilke" and the name of the poem is "The Panther".
3. The rhyming scheme of the poem are (stare-air), (sound-around), (wonder-stonder), (eyes-arise), (spart-heart).
4. The 'weary glance' of the panther change into dazed and vacant stare.
5. The natural habitat of the panther ~~change~~ is ~~stare~~ jungle.
6. The desire of the panther is to live in jungle, to hunt animals and eat.
7. The panther feels paralyzed and useless because in his natural habitat he can be comfortable and can hunt animals but in the cage he always remain caged and depend upon humans for his food.
8. In this poem the poet depicts that the caged wild animals aren't comfortable and always remain alert and think that who can help them to take them out of the cage. Their ~~is~~ actual suitable conditions are in wild life but in the cage they aren't suitable and therefore the poet here says that the human beings are responsible for this.

Extra QANS

Ans

10. ~~Ans~~ According to me the human beings are responsible for the suffering of these animals because we are ~~them~~ making the animals away from their natural habitat and their family and keep them in cages and they suffer a lot.
1. The central idea of the poem "The Panther" is that how the wild animal a panther is suffering from many problems and is away from his family and his habitat.
5. The poet refers to the panther's concentric movement that when he is circling around the cage behind the iron bars, it seems like a dance of strength, he is stunned and a great will stands in his mind.