

The Passive Voice

H.H.W

i. His sister was sent to a progressive school.

ii. He didn't like the proposition of sending his sister to another school because if her sister was in his school then he could have kept a watch on her and made sure she behaved properly.

iii. She pestered the narrator because she thought she knew more than the narrator.

iv. The chapter name is "The passive voice" and the story-teller name is "Poile Sengupta".

2ii. In the English grammar class when Gia jumped up to answer a question there was a loud, long scream from Pia as her plait followed Gia's ~~plait~~ plait.

and the top of her head crashed into Gia's jaw by the time their screaming stopped and the two plaits were disentangled it was almost time for the next period but the English grammar teacher said that she had to get to the bottom of this before she left the class.

iii. The narrator cleverly tied Gia and Pia's hair together and after when Gia jumped to answer a question her hair got tangled and she got banged on Pia's jaw. The narrator then cleverly said that "Ma'am, the two plaits were discovered to have been tied together. ~~It~~ It was an unfortunate incident and has to be thoroughly investigated. Any infor mation that leads to the identity of the culprits will be welcomed and kept confidential."

3i. The narrator was a kid and he was very ~~unhappy~~ controlling over his sister because his sister was always doing what the narrator doesn't like specially being a teacher of the narrator and ~~unneces~~ sarily teaching about english grammar to ~~her~~ the narrator.
