iv. The chapter is "The Velveteen rabbit" and the author is Margery Williams

2i. The rabbit looked really splendid. He was fat and bunched, as a rabbit should be. His coat was spotted brown and white, he had real thread whiskers, and his ears were lined with pink satin.

ii. The skinn horse was so old that his brown ~~coat~~ coat was bald in patches and showed the seams underneath, and most of the hairs in his tail had been pulled out to string bead necklaces. For he had seen a long succession of mechanical toys arrive to boast and swagger, and by-and-by break their main springs and pass away.

iii. One day the boy got scarlet fever and then the doctor came to check him after some days when he was normal. Nana got a eye on the velvet teen rabbit then she asked the doctor to keep it or not, the doctor said no because it was full of scarlet fever germs.

So, the rabbit was then kept in the pile of things that had to be burnt.
