

LAST LESSON

Q) Why did Franz dread of going to school that morning?

Am) Franz dreaded going to school that morning because he was running late and thought that he would be scolded by M. Hamel for arriving late.

Q) What was so much tempting that morning and what did the narrator decide to do?

Am) On that morning the thought of running away and spending the whole day outside was very tempting for Franz. But he fought off that urge and rushed off to school.

Q) What did he observe at the bulletin board?

Am) Franz noticed a crowd at the bulletin board near the Town hall. He observed that for the past two years all the good news was coming <sup>from</sup> ~~at~~ that board and he wondered what the matter was this time.

Q) How was he affected by the Wackter's remark?

Am) When Wackter made a remark that there was plenty of time Franz made ~~off~~ a run for the school and reached there panting.

Q) In what context did the school seem strange and silent?

Am) Usually when the school began there would be a great commotion and activity. But that day everything was a quiet as it was on a Sunday morning. Instead of scolding him, his teacher M. Hamel invited him to his seat kindly.

Q) Describe M. Hamel as a teacher.

Ans) M. Hamel was a teacher who had love for French language in his heart. He taught his students well and was a little strict with them.

Q) How did M. Hamel make the people aware of their folly?

Ans) M. Hamel invited all the townfolks for a lesson on French language. There he made them aware of the importance of French language in their life and made them aware of how the actions of Germans would affect them.

Q) What peculiar thing did Franz see and feel about his lesson of writing?

Ans) During his lesson of writing Franz saw that he could understand the lesson perfectly and he remembered it well. He felt a sense of achievement and pride for his mother tongue.

Q) Who did M. Hamel blame for neglect in learning on part of boys like Franz?

Ans) For the neglect in learning on part of boys like Franz M. Hamel blamed himself since he neglected their studies as well.

Q) What was unusual about Hamel's dress on the day of his last lesson?

Ans) On the day of his last lesson Hamel ~~had worn~~ wore his green coat which was unusual as his that coat of his was only worn on special days like prize distribution.