

NAME - ABHILASH DASH

CLASS - VIII (A)

SCHOOL No - 2156 Sub - English

P.T. 1 (B)

Page No.

Date

Passage Writing

1-2) ~~on~~ Classical music

1-3) Classical music was first born in the sacred temples and later flourished in the glamorous courts of Rajahs and Maharajahs and the Nawabs.

ii) The common people, who had no access to the great darbars, never offered opportunity of they could not acquire an appreciation for it.

iii) Our great masters guarded the secret of their music too zealously to let it be taught to outsiders. This tendency eventually resulted in classical art becoming the monopoly of a few musicians.

iv) With the death of the last musician of a gharana or Khaya their music was completely wiped off from existence.

✓. Complete control → monopoly

2. E-mail Writing
To - ~~anilbiswas~~@mailcity.com

CC
BCC

Subject - New Atlas Bicycle (Birthday gift)

Dear Anil

I hope this ~~letter~~ E-mail finds you in sound health and vibrant spirits. I have written you this E-mail to tell you about gift that have received from my father on my birthday. As I am fond of cycling, My father has gifted me a new Atlas bicycle with six gears. It's very costly but I am enjoying lot and have ~~great~~ fun by cycling the whole colony. This riding of bicycle helps in keeping me fit and healthy. I hope meet you soon and share my bicycle with you.

Yours - lovingly
Abhilash

3 ii) Joey and his grandfather studied together and worked hard on grandfather's ~~hand~~ <sup>lessons</sup> every day. Joey took over all the chores to give his grandfather more time to study. He told his grandfather he could study in his room, where it would be quieter and the phone wouldn't interrupt him.

iii. In spite of all odds, he grandfather's willing power, to read and write and the encouragement with co-operation of his grandson, Joey, towards him for read and write made grandfather overcome the lifelong obstacle of his inability to read.