

1

The events following fertilisation are - implantation, cell division, development, gestation, parturition (birth).

2.)

The placenta helps in the exchange of nutrients and gases between the embryo and the mother.

ii)

It is semipermeable, thus helps protect the embryo from infection by diseases causing viruses and bacteria.