

Character sketch

The Narrator is kind and compassionate to ~~the~~ towards her peers and the new comers. She is also supportive and tried to maintain a friendly environment for the new girl and didn't mind her being handicapped.

She also befriended her and ~~kept~~ gave her company though hesitant at first, they became best friends. So overall the narrator is a good person with all the good human qualities like helpfulness, kindness and is compassionate.

She ~~isn't~~ isn't very narrow-minded and I think she can mix up with every one without any complains or misunderstandings.
