

William the helper

William was a small naughty boy. He wanted to do everybody's help but instead of doing their help he made their work more. While he was resting in the van the three person unknowing kept the piano in the van and William was stuck inside the van. Then he shouted to get him out of the van. Everybody where tried to unload the furniture again. Mother said him to stay there until they unload it in the new house. After hearing this William broke the mirror. After this they ~~thought~~ thought of ~~for~~ taking William ~~out~~ out of the van and so on.....
