

When William was inside the van and taking some rest. Then the men put the piano inside the van with very difficulty.

When the van was about to go

William shouted to take him out of the van. He said that it's too clusty there and he couldn't breathe properly. Saying this he broke the ~~red~~ mirror. After this the piano was taken out and William got out of the van.