

Problems faced by the tiger

The problems faced by the tiger was that it was hunted for its skin and bone. Tiger's skin has yellow and black stripes which looks very attractive.

So they want its skin to hang on walls and its bone are ground into powder and sold. The population of the tiger is now thinning down.