Scary Story Writing

The door

A rich couple were living alone in their residence when they heard a sound of as if someone was trying to break front door to enter the house. They got frightened. They did not have idea what to do? Immediately they got an idea to call the police. They wanted to get the robbers caught red handed. In the mean-time the neighbours, heard the sound and gathered near the residence. They were discussing about the incident, when the police reached the crime spot. Police discuss with gathered neighbours. When the police went inside the flat saw the door opened without any hammer and the things were scattered on the way. They ~~was~~ turned the light on. The couple who had called police, was shocked seeing their son in their house. Their son was of 21 years and lived in America for his higher study. The son felt very sorry to have this kind of activity. He realized instead of trying to open the door forcibly, he should have waited and rang the door bell. So that his parents would not be frightened and panic. And the police were not called. How ever the truth came to be seen and to the incident got closed.
