

Q1. Why do some animals like Zebras and Leopards have strips or spots on their bodies?

Ans- Zebras, Tigers and Leopards have strips or spots on their bodies which help them to merge or mix with their surrounding. This is called camouflaged and it became very difficult to spot them.

Thus, they keep themselves safe from their enemies.