

Q- Does water evaporate faster in windy conditions?
why or why not

Yes, water evaporates faster in windy conditions.

Vapour particles move away when the speed of wind increases which leads to increase in the amount of water vapour in the atmosphere. This results in faster evaporation.