

Q- The tiger is a national animal but it is endangered so what is being done to protect them. Write an article based on your finding.

Ans- Tiger is our national animal but it is endangered. In 1973, the government declared the tiger, India's national animal, banned hunting and set up ~~conservation~~ conservation scheme called ~~project~~ Project Tiger. There are 50 reserves today under the programme, and about half are well managed, according to government assessment.

To preserve Tiger government is considering bellow points:

- Reinvigorating the constitution of governance.
- Strengthening efforts towards protection of tiger, checking poaching, convicting wildlife criminals and breaking and ~~down~~ international trade network in wildlife ~~body~~ body parts and derivatives.
- Expanding the undisturbed areas for tiger by reducing human pressure.

- Repair the relationship with local people who share the tiger habitat by ~~the~~ fielding ~~the~~ strategies for coexistence.
- Regenerate the forest habitats ~~at~~ the fringes of the tigers protective enclaves by investing in ~~the~~ forest, water and grassland economies of the people
