

Exercise-2

Every year our family plans a trip to an exciting and new destination. This year too, we were ready to explore the beautiful country Bhutan. The first thing I noticed about ~~x~~ Bhutan was its cleanliness. There was an immense sense of respects towards nature in all of Bhutan's residents. I later found out that in Bhutan, the national goal is to make sure that all of its citizens are happy. Hence, they measure the country's development through an index named Green National Happiness. I was so amazed to know this! Bhutan is also ~~an~~ only country in the world that is carbon negative. Most countries produce larger amounts of ~~x~~ carbon dioxide than their trees can absorb. Bhutan, however, still has an enormous forest cover, which ensures that it absorbs more carbon dioxide than it ~~produces~~ produces! While walking through the streets of Bhutan, I remember, inhaling deeply because I knew the air I was breathing was fresh and unpolluted. I left Bhutan with ~~a~~ memories of a wonderful nation that lived in harmony with the nature.

3) Complete the dialogue using appropriate possessive adjectives and demonstratives.

Ashmita - Hey, Payal! I am extremely sorry to bother you this late at night, but did you see my phone anywhere? I can't find it.

Payal - Hey! Are you sure you carried your phone with you to the restaurant? I don't remember seeing you use your phone at all during dinner.

Ashmita - I am sure that I carried it to the restaurant. Do you think I should ask Rahul or Leha? Maybe I left it in ~~the~~ my car.

Payal - Yes, you could do that. This is the problem with phones these days. You can't find fit them in pockets and they tend to get misplaced. Oh! You could also ask your other friends who came today if they saw a phone lying somewhere.

A shrill - I wish I could, but unfortunately, in the midst of celebrations, I couldn't even meet all my friends, let alone speak to them. Did you speak to Anna? She had come all the way from London to meet us.

Payal - I did! She seems very happy with her job.
She even gave us some delicious cookies.

Ashmita - That's amazing! I wish I could have spoken to her. Oh! I completely forgot about my phone yet again! I have to go look for it.

Payal - Oh, yes! We got carried away with small talk. I'll make a call to the restaurant. Maybe those staff will know something about your phone.

Ashmita - Thank you so much! I'll head back to my home now. It's going getting late.

Payal - No problem. I shall let you know if I get to know something.

- 1) Fill in the blanks using appropriate distributions.
 - a) Each of the books written by him is worth reading at least once.
 - b) I am sure neither of them is aware that the date of submission has already passed.

- c) Each one of my classmates was excited about the trip. But neither Shanti nor I was very keen.
- d) Aradhana is a healthy person. Each morning she goes jogging. Every Sunday, she practices yoga.
- e) Either of these book clubs will win this year's Best Club Prize.
- f) My sister went for taekwondo classes every evening during the vacation.
- g) Neither of us could go for the party as we both were unwell.
- h) This apartment is very spacious. Each floor has a minimum of three balconies. The bedrooms on each floor have attached bathrooms.