Message of the Story

At the end of the year 1914 which was the first year of the World War I. The war didn't end till Christmas. But the soldiers were tired and hopeless. They thought it will end but this didn't happened. The day before Christmas, without anyone's permission, both sides stopped firing each other. They sang carols. The two nations who were fighting were like neighbours. The two nations singing one carol in the middle of their fighting. The ~~two~~ two nations greeted each other. They exchanged gifts like chocolates, cigars etc. The ~~two~~ two nations also respected the burials of the dead one. But after this truce, the war continued for more 4 years.
