

Message of Christmas truce

Ch-7

Date _____
Page 69

In Christmas truce, something strange and wonderful happened between English and German soldiers to celebrate Christmas. They stopped firing with mutual agreement to greet each other and enjoy the occasion. It reminds us of the choice we all can make. We can see others as humans who matter like we matter, even when they are our enemies. Enemies can become friends at least for a moment. ❀