

Santhal Tribes

Santhals are a Munda ethnic group native to ~~the~~ India. Santhals are found mostly in Jharkhand and also found in Assam, Bihar, Odisha.

They speak in Santali and Munda language.

They celebrate a festival called Karam tree. In that festival they plant a Karam tree outside their home after the purification process and a festival called Disum sendra (a hunting festival) on the eve of Baisakhi Purnima and etc. Festivals were done there. The male wears Kacha and gamcha and female wear Thelak.
