Homework

1. Write a detailed note on the nature of town planning in Indus cities.

Ans The most striking feature of the Indus ^{Valley Civilisation} cities was the well-planned nature of its cities. Cities of this civilisation show that the people had a good knowledge of planning and were good architects.

* These cities were divided into two parts. One part was the higher level, it was built on massive platforms made of baked bricks and archaeologists named it citadel or acropolis. The citadel is surrounded by huge walls.

* The lower part of the city consisted of the houses of common people.

* The town planners of those times had made straight roads crossing each other at straight angles and dividing the city into blocks.

2) Write a summary on the religious beliefs of the neolithic people and shelter.

Ans- The earth provided food to them, so, the Neolithic man worshipped earth as statues and figurines of mother goddesses have been found. The people were afraid of nature and its mysteries.

* So, probably nature was worshipped in different forms.

like sun, earth, wind, rain, sky etc.
