Recap

Words that are used to name people, places, animals or things are called naming words or nouns. For example, Mohit (name of a person), market (name of a place), elephant (name of an animal), pencil (name of a thing).

All common nouns are written in small letters.

Examples:

This city has many museums.

Riya donated her old clothes.

The first letter of a common noun is a capital letter only when a sentence starts with it.

Examples:

Cherries are very sweet.

I like to eat cherries.
