

PHYSICS HOMEWORK

Light energy is a type of energy which can be heard or seen by humans. It can be expressed in joules. Luminous is an object which produces light and emits heat. Non-luminous is an object which doesn't produce light and emit its own heat.