

HW

Q. Even on a very hot day, people in coastal areas do not feel very hot. Why?

Because, water has a higher heat capacity than soil. So the ocean takes much longer to heat and cool than the land. Coastal areas will generally ~~have more~~ take longer time to become hot ~~as compared to~~ because of the heat capacity of the ocean.