

Write five qualities of a good citizen of India?

Ans - Being a citizen of India, some of the moral responsibilities and duties mentioned in the constitution are:

We must respect the National Flag and National Anthem, obey laws of our country, protect the power, unity and integrity of the country, safeguard public property, pay our taxes with honesty and promptly.