

The rule ^{Armand} Dubigny's time was very strict. Under it, his negroes were having a hard time finding happiness. It was very strict and everyone had to work as per the say of the Dubignys. The people missed the old master's easy going and indulgent lifeline.