

1. • The lens has convex & one concave side.
  - The convex face has greater degree of curvature than the concave.
2. Only a portion of the light hitting a diamond is reflected; the rest travels through it. As the light moves through the diamond, it is scattered and fractured.
3. Plano Convex,