

WORK

Work is said to be done scientifically when a force applied on a body produces motion in it. Ex. An engine of a moving vehicle does work.

If net force on a body is 0, scientifically work is not done.