Dear Diary:

Our ~~a~~ foolish King and his ministers have passed weird and nonsensical rules. This kingdom is really different from others. Here days are nights and nights are days. People should be awake at night and sleep ~~at~~ during day. How foolish and impractical is this! The rules are very strict here and those who didn't obey they were told for fear of death. Here everything is available for a rupee. Today I had some work so I was doing them at the morning, suddenly the soldiers came and gave me a warning not to do again. I am very much peeved over here. So I can't live here any more. Soon I will move away from this Kingdom and settle in the neighboring Kingdom.
