

Diwali celebrations

Diwali is known as the festival of lights. This festival is celebrated in the memory of Lord Rama who returned to Ayodhya after 14 years. On this occasion Hindus light candles and decorate their house with Rangoli. Children are found very happy on this festival, burning fire crackers. Hindus share sweets and gifts with their friends and neighbors. Hindu women Prepare different types of cakes food and Kheer on this occasion. Hindus wear new dresses and perform puja with lots of rituals on this day.

For a zoo is a very exciting and interesting event. I went to a zoo last Saturday with my parents. The name of the zoo is Nahdankanan. We purchased the ticket and entered the zoo. The zoo

A visit to a zoo

A visit to a zoo is a very exciting and interesting experience. I went to a zoo last Sunday with my parents.

The name of zoo is Nandan Kanan. We purchased the ticket and entered the zoo. The zoo is all shaded by huge green trees. We saw animals like deer, elephant, tiger, lion, crocodile, python etc. There were some ponds also in the zoo.

swan and ducks were swimming in the ponds. The zoo had many varieties of birds like pigeons, parrots, peacock etc. Then we saw ziffrafe in a separate enclosure.

After watching all these we had our food in the garden which is inside the zoo. we enjoyed this day a lot.