I like the rainy season most. It is also known as monsoon season. It is my favourite and best seasons. Rainy season starts in India in the month of June when winds of South West Monsoon starts blowing. Monsoon begins in the middle of June, and continues up to September. According to Hindu calendar this season is felt in the months of Ashadha and Shrawana. During the season, the sky is generally overcast with cloud. The clouds of different shades move in the sky and look very nice. Sometimes, rain comes along with lightning and thunder. The Rainy season comes after the summer season, so, this season brings relief to the burning earth scorched in the summer heat. The temperature remains pleasant during the monsoon. All the living things enjoy the rainy season by getting wet into the rain water.

Rainy season adds scenic beauty to the environment. It gives a new life to the earth. The soil becomes wet and nourished with new drops of water. All the trees and plants get covered with new green leaves and lawns and fields gets covered with the great looking green velvet grass. The beautiful rainbow falls in the sky. The sun plays hide-and-seek with the clouds. Peacocks and other forest birds start dancing in full swing by spreading their wings. In this season the rivers, canals, tanks and other low land are full of water.
