Paragraph on River

A river is a natural water body flowing freely on the lands towards another larger water body.

We refer to rivers as the arteries of any country. No living organism can live without water and rivers are the most important source of water. Almost all the early civilization sprang up on the river banks.

It is because, from ancient times, people realized the fertility of the river valleys. Thus, they began to settle down there and cultivate the fertile valleys. Moreover, rivers originate from mountains which carry down rock sand and soil from them. Most importantly, rivers help in agriculture. In fact a lot of farmers depend on rivers for agricultural purposes.

Paragraph on Diwali

Diwali is a Hindu festival that is known as the festival of lights. This festival usually lasts for five days and is celebrated during the Hindu month of Kartika. The festival symbolizes the spiritual "victory of light over darkness".

Diwali is celebrated in the honour of Lord Ramachandra because on this day Lord Rama returned to Ayodhya after 14 years of exile. During this exile period, he fought with the demons and the demon king Ravana who was the powerful ruler of Lanka. On Rama's return, people of Ayodhya lit diyas to declare the victory of good over evil. People also worship goddess Lakshmi and Lord Ganesha on the eve of Diwali.

One day a small group of young people, from a rehabilitation centre, were taken on a field trip to Shambala. Jeppi Hendren who takes care of the centre, addressed the group. She told them about Shambala, how it came about, and a little bit about the animals there. She was near the cheetah enclosure.

Subira, a three-year-old cheetah lay atop the large, long, low branch of a massive oak tree, observing them quickly. She pointed to the cheetah and said, "Her name is Subira; she is a three-year old cheetah. Magnificent, isn't she?"

Just then Subira turned her head and gazed at the crowd. The closely set black spots on her tawny, thick fur were so dazzling that everyone felt compelled to comment, Oooh, look at her, she is so beautiful!

Except one. In the group was seventeen year-old Lory Perea. Lory Perea had dreams of playing major league baseball someday. That was his one and only goal.
