→ RULE DURING OLD AUBIGNY'S

Throughout the story 'Desiree's Baby', the author uses symbolism to convey her themes of racial prejudice, unequal gender roles, and social hierarchy in a patriarchal society. The time and rule during old Aubigny's time was based around, racism, discrimination, sexism, forced male domination and other aspects. Women were deemed to be painted as less than men and dark coloured people were supposed to be seen as less and lower in the society than ~~blacks~~ whites. They were often referred to as slaves. Back in the old time, inequality was also one of the aspects of the old society.
