Dear diary

Today was an emotional moment for me as I saw a beggar on my way to school lying on the road in hunger. His hair were in disorder and he was covered with a layer of mud. It seemed that he hadn't a bath for several since several days and his body shape showed that he ~~didn't~~ haven't eaten anything since days. I gave him the food in my tiffin box and some water. When the recess bell rang, I had not any food with me, but my best friend, Swayan shared his tiffin with me.
