

A Night At The Haunted Fort

As you all know India is well preserved with misteries and Haunted destination's, and they do grab tourists attention by their mystic stories. And young tourists are the most common in this areas because as they need something new and adventurous to do in their youth so that they can share it with the peers. Well, this story is also about a group of men in their early 20's and their visit to the haunted fort.

They were all young with all courage and excitement, they were total 7 person's in all. They had heard about the haunted fort from their history teacher, he used to say about the fort and its past very often, and it's obvious to arouse the curiosity of the boys. When they ask, he used to say that the fort was set on fire with all royal members inside it by the opposition. ~~It still~~ fill now the sound of peoples ~~at~~ crying & shouting for help. is heard during night times. They decided have a night out at the fort in their winter break. The Fort was around 200 km away from their hostels. They headed to the fort at around 1 pm. It ~~to~~ took them around 6 hours to reach there. When they were getting close to the fort, it was dark all around and there were no street lights, they saw some dead cats on the road, that was enough to give them chills in that cold night, but still. ~~to~~ all of them were able convince themselves that maybe any ~~vehicle~~ vehicle would have bumped on them. They drove faster and reached there around 7 pm. They took the room above the temple near just beside the fort. At 8 in the eve, the gates of the fort were closed and the ~~gates~~ gatekeepers came to them as he wanted to share some incidents. He said that there were some supernatural activities happening outside the temple at night and he was often called out by somebody in his daughter's voice asking him to open the gate of the fort and he keeps ignoring them until it is dawn. After listening to this they were scared to death and wanted to leave the fort asap. If they were asked to do ~~one~~ ~~thing~~ undo one thing in their life then it would be to come back home. At around 1:00 pm they heard the voice of one of their mothers ~~was~~ calling them to get back. They decided not to go out until dawn. ~~And~~ When the sun rose they left that place at once.

— By Dibya Dikshya
... Inspired by a Gujara writer.