

Q⇒ Why do some animals like Zebras have strips or spots on their bodies?

Ans ⇒ The black strips would absorb heat in the morning and warm up zebras, where as white strips reflect light more and could thus help cool Zebras as they graze for hours in the blazing sun.

Q⇒ Why do some animals like leopards have strips or spots on their bodies?

Ans⇒ The main purpose of leopards having pattern on their body is to assist them in camouflage. Lastly a stripe coverity the eye and the lots of dark spots on the body help hide the eyes of prey. So the predator may become confused about them.
