

Gamal Abdel Nassen

e

Gamal Abdel Nassen was the second president of Egypt. He served from 1956 until his death in 1970. Gamal Abdel Nassen replaced the monarchy with a new government. Though he is reputed as a controversial man, he remains one of the most influential figures in the history of Arab world.