Q) Why do some animals like Zebras and Leopards have stripes or spots on their bodies?

Ans: The main purpose of those animals, having patterns on their body is to assist them in Camouflage. Camouflage is a term used to refer to a means of disguising by blending in ~~to~~ with the surrounding environment by various means such as stripes. Most animals have stripes to either hide from predators or to hide from prey. Camouflage is any pattern that helps animal to hide. These patterns also include spots and splotches.
