

HOTS Question

- Grass land usually grows in areas where there is not enough rain to support large plantation or vegetation but not limited enough to cause desert like conditions.

Therefore, the dominant vegetation here is grass usually used to grazing.

So, if the park has naturally growing grass in the areas and it is dominant vegetation.

So, Yes it can be called a grassland.