

Macavity, the mystery-cat is a headache to all because no ~~is~~ one is able to get hold of him, not even the flying squad. Macavity has done many crimes but still doesn't get caught by any of the police. He always has an alibi or two. He is the Napoleon of crime as described by the poet. His companions (agents) - Mungojerrie, Griddlebone, are agents whose operations are controlled by Macavity.
