* Describe what the other people were telling about the scorpion.

The villagers did not do anything to help the poet's mother. They reacted unscientifically to the scorpion bite. They gave their own superstitious, philosophical and religious interpretations for the incident. They believed the scorpion bite was god's plan to cure the mother of her previous birth sins.

They believed it will purify her ~~her~~ flesh and soul. They did nothing except ~~to~~ lecturing. They just sat around the poet's mother and gave their opinions.
