

Desiree's Baby

Desiree's Baby by Kate Chopin is a story to explore love, race and prejudice. The story starts with Madame Valmonde talking about her daughter, but Desiree was abandoned by her real parents and Monsieur Valmonde found her. After marriage she didn't have a white boy so, Armand burnt every thing belonging to Desiree and baby. While burning Armand discovered that he has negro blood not Desiree. This story tells us we are treated badly since years.
