

Arctic

Eskimo life was totally adapted to an extremely cold, snow- and ice-bound environment in which vegetable foods were almost nonexistent, furs were scarce and caribou, seal, walrus, and whale meat, whale blubber, and fish were the major food sources.

end.