Mansa Sahoo class - 8 'C'

Home Assignment

Banyan tree

"Banyan tree" is the national tree of India. This plant starts growing on another plant. It's leaves are large is size, texture is like atea leather, it is the leaves are glossy green and shape is like elliptical elliptical. It's roots are widest wide among among all. The trees shade and shelter are much valued in India as a place of peace, rest and reflection. In India banyan trees are like gods. Indian people always worship this trees on of occasions by Keeping sculptures of god - goddess or even simply worship the tree. This trees are also known as Bargad, Vata-Vriksh and Bgoh.