

THE TRAIN ACCIDENT

Ans- I was travelling in a train from Delhi to Mumbai. I met an old man in the same coach who had retired as an engine driver. ~~I was much amazed. I asked of he~~ he was retired because of an accident he loses his job. He said, "I'm a colour blind person from the beginning". But I was too keen to take part in the ~~train~~ railway services, so, I appealed for it at that time. I ~~did~~ lied that I wasn't a colour blind & got a job. When I was asked for a trial I gave & passed out.

On my first day, was driving a train at that time I couldn't identified the red signal & was about to clash with an another train but I was saved. I was taken to the hospital & after that I was carried to the office, there I had to give answers to my higher officers but I could not. So I was driven out."

He gave a sigh of relief. I saw that there were tears in his eyes. ~~he~~ "If I didn't lied that day". The train

Stopped & he went out from it and vanished within the crowd of people.
