

Autumn

'Autumn' also known as 'Fall' is one of the most pleasant times of year. During autumn, trees shed their leaves and dried-brown leaves make an crackling and rustling sound. Autumn remains mostly moderate when days are shorter and cool wind make the atmosphere considerably cooler than summer. Autumn is said to be a beautiful and pleasing bridge between summer and winter. It generally starts in the month of March and ends in the month of September. Autumns seem more attractive in deciduous forests where trees become bare by spreading their dry leaves over the ground. In Hindu Mythology, Autumn is said to be Goddess of Learning "Saraswati", and is also known by her another name 'Sharada' which literally translates into Goddess of Autumn. This season draws a millions of tourists to places like Northern Canada and USA, Eastern Europe, South East and Eastern Asia. People get enthralled to witness satisfying sights of autumn. Nowadays Global warming is making an adverse effect autumn season. Day by day, this season is vanishing. We should take conservational steps to protect this season otherwise we will lose one of the most beautiful experiences in the world.

A

1. Due to extreme fog and mist, the air is dense and gives ~~up~~ us a blurred experience. Therefore poets describes the air as grey.
- 2) The trees are 'laden with stolen gold' during autumn.
- 3) a) Here, 'the stolen gold' describes about the leaves whose colour has changed to 'brownish-gold' due to arrival of autumn season.
3. b) 'Those crystal clear notes' are referred to the pleasant chirping birds that the poet use to hear.
b) We won't hear 'Those crystal clear notes or the birds chirping because harsh winter has arrived and all birds have migrated to warmer places for a shelter and to escape winter.
4. The last stanza shows us a glimpse of the swift change of seasons. She says that the misty days knocks the door of the last phrase of autumn with the arrival of winter. She describes the cold wind as 'winter's breath' which ends the autumn so called 'their death'. She even says that the autumn season will fade away like a beautiful song.
