

25th July 2021,
9:36pm

Dear Diary,

When I was returning from after shopping from the super market, I saw a <sup>lady</sup> beggar ~~and~~ with her children coming towards me asking for food. As she asked me for food I asked my dad to give the lady some amount of money. My dad gave her a 50₹ note and then she gave me blessings and went on to some other person who just behaved very badly to the lady but being a child I could not do anything. But I again went to the lady ~~with~~ and asked her, whether she had eaten anything and on hearing what she and her children said I was totally shocked and I also realised ~~my~~ <sup>my</sup> mistake of wasting food that we get to eat. She told me that they had not eaten anything since two days because the money that they would get was snatched away by a person who she said was the one who told to beg.

Nikunj Singh